

RECLAMATION VILLAGE

CONCEPT

Reclamation Village is a cross between a transitional housing option and an intentional community for individuals experiencing homelessness.

SYSTEM

Reclamation Village is a membership-based organization that self-elects its governing council each year

STRUCTURE

The structures requires large donations of recycled plastics that are transformed with a Precious Plastics™ machine into building blocks.

SPACE

The initial targeted space will begin with empty outdoor grounds, specifically unutilized locations. These spaces will be granted through private donations in order to expand the village system in its establishing years
