Origin of Idea

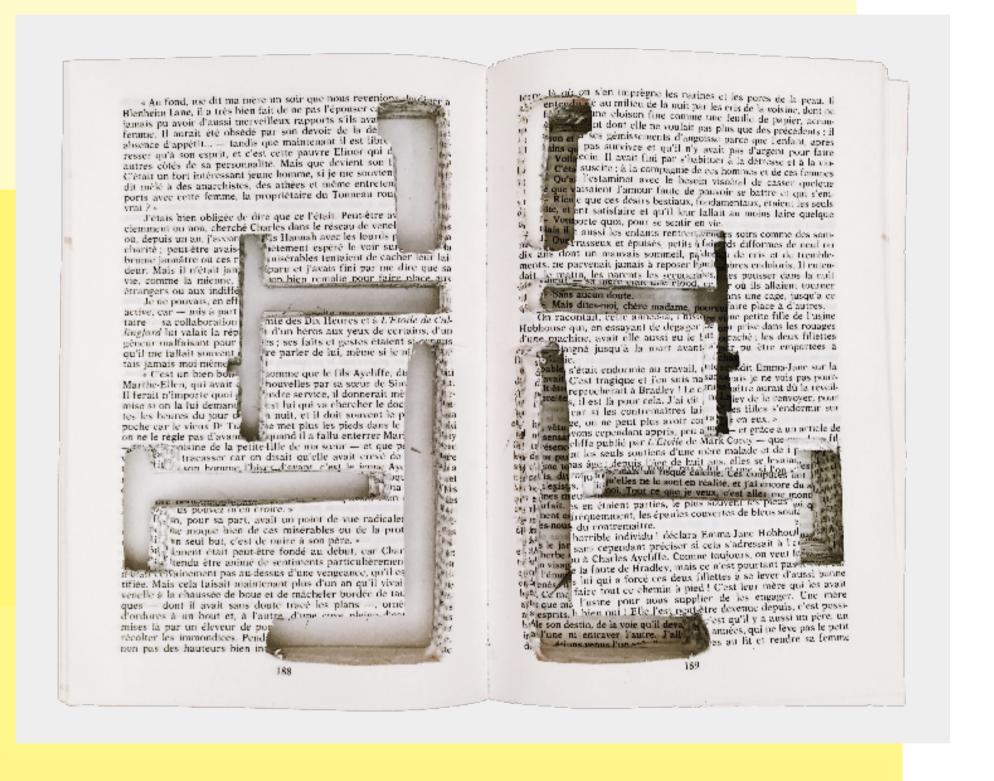

Throughout the exploration and discovery of paper capacities, layering struck me the most. My first project embodies two layers: coloured newspaper in the background and white A3 paper in the foreground.

Planning of Idea

From my initial idea, I developed a more complex and elaborated one, and drew it on paper. The book is sitting on a carboard box, and when it opens, natural light will shine trough the holes cut on the layering papers.

Development of I de a

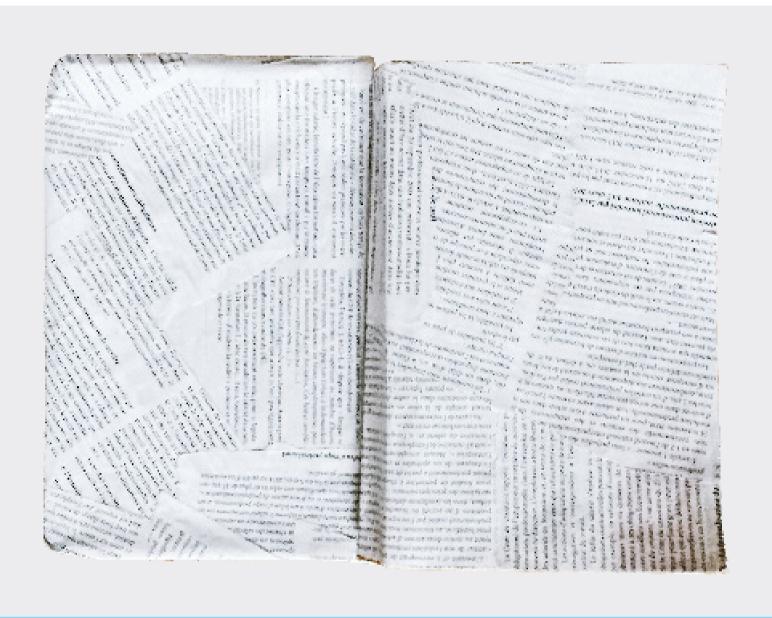

The layering pages of an A5 book were cut through the use of a cutting knife in a variety of geometric shapes, following the text within the book itself. These layers were not cut collectively, but 20 pages at a time in order not to severly damage them.

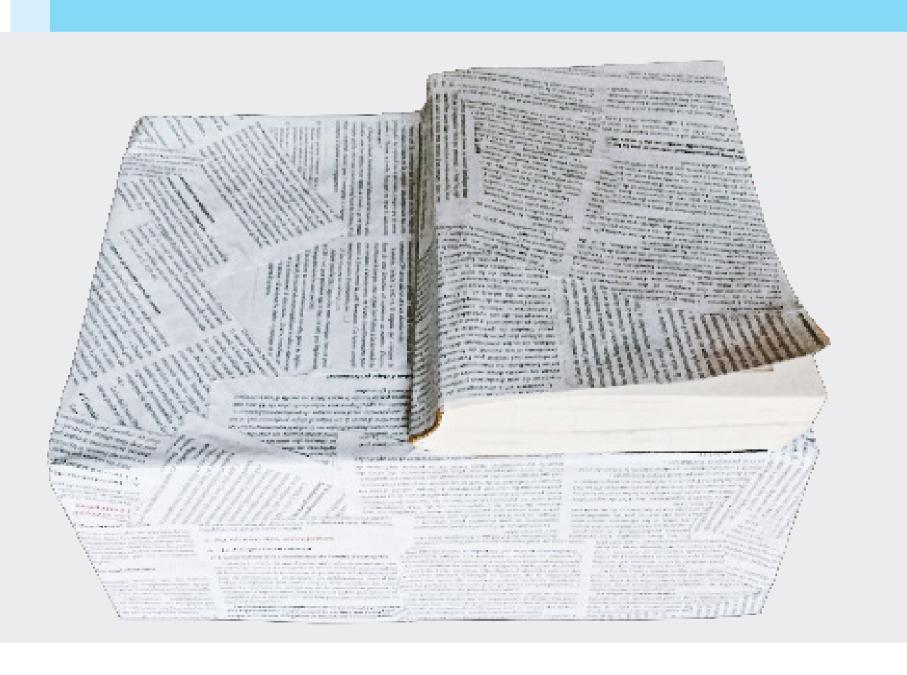

First Attempt

The book was then placed on a cardboard box covered in layers of newspaper. The box was cut out on the top layer, right where the book was laying, in order for light underneath to shine directly through the book pages.

First Attempt

Second Attempt
