

Blind Anthem Manifesto

History:

Blind Anthem's lineage spans decades, tracing back to the pandemonium and chaos that ensued during World War One. Its founding members were of aristocratic status allowing them to avoid their duties to their nation. Resulting was the innate vision that came to the founding members: a vision of a world that could be controlled by just a slight few. Being able to witness the decimation and animosity caused by the war, the founding fathers understood the importance of an unspoken alliance. Witnessing nations rising and falling, it was their vision to create a Utopia in their Image. Meetings were conducted in secret and discussions were never spoken of. After years of delegations the founding fathers were ready to initiate their plans. Their main goal was to build alliances between nations by targeting monarchs, tyrants, prime ministers, popes, presidents, and dictators. These alliances were not intended to protect the sovereignty of their nation but to fuel their own interests and goals. With this agenda set into motion, each of the four founding fathers traveled to four different continents to start building the organization from the ground up. Alliances were built on a contract basis where favors or restitution were granted to intended targets of the organization, thus gaining trust and compliance. As decades passed, the organization's grasp on humanity grew larger and larger. Utmost importance was placed on secrecy and by this point the organization was powerful enough to control trade routes, topple small countries, and elect leaders. They had the world in their hands. As time passed, the founders passed on their empire to their children, which from a young age were taught and raised to be leaders. The organization's power and grasp remained strong throughout the coming years. At this point in time, members of the organization spanned the entire globe. Today, decisions are still carried out through the offspring of the original founders. This leads us to 2018: we are the great grandchildren of the founding fathers of the organization. We have taken control of the organization, renaming it to Blind Anthem and working in the shadows of the world, helping to fuel the grand illusion of choice in today's society.

Membership Selection and Application :

In order to join our organization Blind Anthem, you must be aware of the hierarchy we have created. Throughout the planning stages of our organization, we knew we wanted to have a large and dedicated following. To ensure that this is how Blind Anthem operates we mainly target those of a higher social class; this includes corporate CEO's, internet influencers and celebrities. In the first tier of our hierarchy stands Global and Political leaders, such as Prime Ministers, Presidents, Royalty and the Pope. Below this tier stands celebrities and internet influencers who have strong power over the children and adolescent audience. The last tier consists of the general public otherwise known as "the people" of Blind Anthem. We feel that those who are wealthy and powerful can pass on our beliefs and morals. Through the hierarchy, these members will have social, political and global persuasion over the people and their beliefs. Through this process we can gain more power, strength and reach our goal of a worldwide following.

Members are accepted through an application process that deems them powerful enough to pass on our beliefs. Members are responsible in taking care and control of their target audience. A members goal is to push out Blind Anthems beliefs and consumerism practices to the people. To ensure that our members meet the qualifications to pass on our beliefs to the followers, our application includes a multitude of questions. The beginning of the application include basic questions such as name, age, gender but quickly becomes more in depth and philosophical. As our target audience is very broad, we also ask that along with the application, the applicant attaches any documentation that can support their leadership or influential abilities. This will also allow us to see what tier you would specifically fall under and what impact you would have in our organization. The applicant will receive their membership status within one week of completion. The last two pages of the application include a confidentiality agreement. Even if the said applicant is not accepted as a member, they are not allowed to disclose any information about the application or our organization to anyone. This process is simple but secretive; we obtain control over all incoming and outgoing information said about the application process.

Beliefs :

We believe in the saying that religion is the opium of the masses, so we aim to replace religion, acting as a new order; religion is out, and consumerism is in. However, this doesn't mean religion will cease to exist, you can continue to believe in your religion as you please, but we cannot guarantee that your beliefs will continue uninfluenced.

We are an organization run by some of the brightest minds of our age. As a result, we have vast capabilities in predictions and analytics on your habits and preferences. We know what you really want. Ever feel lonely sometimes, or lost without hope? In this age of modern consumerism, money can buy happiness.

We handle information with the highest level of care; we wouldn't want our lesser known details to become widespread. We believe it's important to compartmentalize, so we urge followers to not share our dealings with anyone else.

We believe in spreading our beliefs far and wide, so we recruit the biggest, and most influential members of society. Our organization includes influencers of all types, in all industries. We have religious figures: believe in what religion you want, but our ideals will always be on your mind. We have CEOs': boycott or support what companies you want, but our products will always end up in your possession. We have vloggers and bloggers: follow or ignore who you want, but our lifestyle will always inform yours.

Closing/Mission Statement:

In hopes of creating a utopian society during WW1, intellectuals had created the religion: Blind Anthem. Sophisticated individuals who are influencers of the society were approached to join the body. Our broad network will bring together the selected individuals to strive for their greatest by supporting each other. This is the essence of what makes our team robust. Starting from monarchs, tyrants, and to popes in the past. Now, we are receiving applicants from presidents, celebrities, and technicians. However, to ensure our organization to continuously prosper, we are very selective in choosing the members to join our team.

Members actively contribute to our practices to build greater credits of gaining further trust and concession. Our corporation does not only focus on the current trends, but our against-the-grain innovative spirit decision making predetermines the future as a group. The various alliance all throughout the world strive us to develop our immortal power.

Our agency may be the best investment even for your descendants. You are always welcome to register or follow the Blind Anthem. Follows us on instagram, snapchat, twitter, tumblr, and facebook for further instructions. Once a family, forever a family.
