

photoes and descriptions

1

A crime scene! This is what the apartment looks like when Emma left. There are Mountain of dirty laundries and a guitar that are thrown to the ground. A layer of dust feebly guards the withered leaves from a dried up vase that stands on the table. The gloomy atmosphere is drifting in the room. Judging the condition where she left her place, it does not look like she was in the right mind when she left. Everything looks like messed up in her life. The mystery

pictvure

It is a golden-framed family picture without Emma's sister, found in Emma's room; it only shows Emma's parents holding her hand when she was little. Keeping this family picture only indicates the complicated yet also awkward relationship between Emma and her sister Lucy because the family history explains how did Emma's sister overcame with her father's cheating and hardly faced a younger sister who has a different mother. Lucy has lots of prejudice towards Emma, therefore Emma has a careless attitude towards Lucy as well. This explains why Emma chooses to keep the family picture without Lucy because they don't see each other as their family member. Apartment after she disappears

A personal photograph found in Emma's apartment. It is a lively selfie with her boyfriend taken at a concert; Emma wears a pink neon princess crown and cuddles with her boyfriend in the scene. However, the photo has been torn apart and bits of torn photographs lie lifelessly on the ground. The placement of the photo emphasizes her madness and highlights her inner characteristics because pieces of photo are everywhere on the ground, it highlights her frustrations toward this relationship. Bits of torn photographs indicate their once sweet relationship has been broken and informs us a possible reason why she disappears.

Is anyone have his contact, please call us at 920-212-3446.

Bryan zhang, 21, goes SUNY (State University of New York) in New York City and works as a bartender in East Bank Bar from 11:00 PM to 4:00 AM. He is humorous and hard worker. He tries to make efficient work while he's at school and also makes lots of effort while he's at bar. He is quiet and introverted, so not many student know him. He doesn't really socialize with others when he's at school, but there is only one person who attracts his attention. Emma Chen who goes same school with him and she also goes the East Bank Bar every day around midnight by herself. Bryan didn't recognize her before he noticed. Once he started to talk to Emma when he worked as a bartender and Emma was his bar customer, he began to recognize her even at school and kept his eyes on her. Bryan worries about Emma since she started to stop coming to school and bar at the same time.

Lucy Chen, 27, graduated from Boston College and works as a business manager in Pricewaterhousecoopers in Massachusetts. She is a workaholic who is independent and private. She has well social networkings and friendly at socializing with other people, but she doesn't like to talk about her personal story, particularly, her family story. Only few relatives know about Lucy's family history. She lives with her parents in Boston and her younger sister who has a different mother with her, lives in Boston. Lucy is going to marry soon with her fiance. On the way of visiting her fiance's parents, Lucy decides to visit her sister apartment to invite her family dinner with her boyfriend.

Interview

Interviewer : you study during day time and work at night?

Bryan : It was really tough when I began to work at the bar, and since I live in New York City by myself and my family doesn't have enough money for me, so I had to start work to make money. Now, I'm pretty adapted to my life, so I can handle both together.

Interviewer : You crushed on someone?

Bryan : Well, yeah. She goes same school with me and she also always come to the bar that I work every midnight. I wasn't pay lots of attention on her before I saw her several times at school and the bar, because she looks really different in both places. She looks ordinary when she goes the school, and she looks sensual at the bar. I hope I would be the someone to her someday. I'm just waiting for the time I can be close to her.

Interviewer : What's her name?

Bryan : Emma Chen, but I think she wants me to know her as Lynn. I don't know why she lied about her name (she definitely doesn't know that I go same school with her), but hopefully she would talk all about herself to me someday.

Interviewer : Sounds romantic. I will hope for that, too! Is there anything you want to say more about?

Bryan : Emma doesn't show up at school and the bar these days and I wonder where she is. I don't want her to feel any uncomfortable about me. Just curious as her schoolmate and bartender.

Interviewer : She might went to travel somewhere. Don't worry. She will show up someday.

Interview

Interviewer : You have younger sister and do you see her often ?

Lucy : Hi, not really. I live in Boston with my parents and my younger sister, Emma, lives in New York City by herself. She goes her college there. Last week, I went to New York City to see my fiance's family and on the way of seeing his family, I visited Emma's apartment. Apparently, Emma somehow stops contact with my father, so I wondered whether she is at home or not. When I visited, I didn't see Emma, but I knew she would be with her boyfriend.

Interviewer : Why don't you let her know that you are visiting her?

Lucy : Well, she is the one who doesn't answer her phone and I thought she might be at home. I mean she doesn't really go somewhere without telling my father...so...

Interviewer : How did you know that she was with her boyfriend?

Lucy : I just guessed that, because when I entered her bedroom, I saw a man's watch on her dext next her bed. I think anyone would think like that if a man's watch just left besides a woman's bed.

Interviewer : Do you ever wonder where would she go?

Lucy : She is 18 and it is old enough to take care herself in anywhere and anytime. I believe her and I know she can do well in anywhere she would be.

