"I've outgrown my own origin story" so true and so powerful! Sometimes we think that we need to be proud of every thing we have ever done. It is freeing to admit that we got stuck and wanted change

I like how you allow some vulnerabilities into your story in order to relate to the listener and relax the mood. The presentation style feels very rehearsed but genuine

I think mentioning you outgrew your original story took away from your story because I was left wondering about it the entire time

I loved the way your story flowed and showed your personality in a short period of time

I liked being able to hear your thought process and the things that were going through your head while you were in the moment. It was really awesome!

This presentation seems rehearsed which means you got all the details in, I love that. I do wish it felt more natural though

The story arc was so great!! I just wonder if you were reading?

From Nicole Cerra to Everyone:

Definitely a very relatable experience. I can totally relate with the idea of feeling stuck and not knowing where to go or what to do. Change is so scary sometimes especially when you know you need to let change happen but you're not sure what it is
