

Plastic Bubble Web

The Plastic Bubble Web got its name by being a web made from plastic materials that utilizes bubble wrap as part of the design by creating a stress-free environment that allows bubbles to be popped. This web created an overhanging space where one could sit or rest under the web, which was where one could also stay while creating the web.

The overall structure of the Bubble Web is that of an Orb-Weaving Spider Web and includes characteristics of the web, such as getting caught in the web.
