

Connections: Astrological Predictions and their Counterparts.

This zine emerged from the idea of connections. In the age of information and technology, we seem to always be connecting with others through our cell-phones. However, we have been neglecting how we connect with ourselves through our data consumed. How the things we view can define how we see ourselves and interpret non-technological information.

Therefore, I decided to elucidate these cognitive relationships built through data by collecting excerpts from Co-Star's daily chart reading (a well known astrology app), and accompanying them with bits of writing found on my phone and personal journal I felt reflected and resonated with the quote.

The reason I specifically choose Co-Star is because astrology seems to be a guide to many individuals nowadays. Its growing popularity has objectified itself in pop-culture, resulting in apps like Co-Star, which now have a dedicated cult following. Therefore, using data from an application with such power over people's life seemed to me to be the most interesting, as it is directly tailored to you. The content, like astrology, is quite generic, however, to observe and make a mental note of what data resonates with you, and then seems to come up again in the day, can bring you more insight in to yourself than any data fed to you.

by Patricia Geyerhahn

Be prepared for unexpected mishaps like people bailing “I felt like I could’ve been warmer in the moment and I’m sorry about that.”

You are not your thoughts “...everything seemed so promising and now I am dissapointed.”

Your current strength will make action fruitful
“The professor is just as we thought...amazing.”

Don't look for an excuse to pickup drugs, call that person who never makes you feel good, or damage yourself in any other way.

“Yet again I am in pain due to sexual activities semi enjoyed. This time was a real kicker.”

Resolve tension so that you can alter your subconscious

“Hey I just wanted to let you know things should be quieter than usual.”

*Emotional insight and self-awareness is predicated on understanding all your feelings
“...and after all that I felt so content.”*

It may feel frustrating to get to get to the bottom of things “It didn’t happen, as I predicted.”

You are not looking for compliments, just recognition of your efforts and talents

“Thank you for talking and getting me to open up, as I don’t think I would have taken that route otherwise.”

Be open to new oportunities

“...if you feel weird about it I understand why;
It’s all good but thanks for checking in anyways,
it was very thoughtful.”

Try to cultivate authentic interest and care for others today

“I texted her back: ...‘I don’t want to have to ask for your effort or interest;’ I think that’s exactly what she needs to hear.”

Now is not the time to be unselfish in love
“I must really be craving a friend to settle for this.”

You have the energy to heal yourself
“I think after so long of frantic non-stop thought I am finally better...I’m back to understanding myself, and I am familiar again.”

