ROOM EKPHRASIS

I have been staying here for a year. I can describe the room although I close my eyes. Although I only have been here for a year, everything feels familiar like I spent a lifetime together. It is accustomed to seeing the room. I usually spend most of my time on the bed. It is comfortable. I always sit and lay on the bed working on the laptop. Three blankets are on the bed. It supposes to be used as different seasons. I do not care about the weather. I bought two pillows, but l can not find the other one. I put a gray pillowcase which used to match with a bed cover, but not anymore. A small side table stands on the right side of the bed. I brought them to use my laptop putting on when I sit on the bed. However, it exists for my glasses, water bottle, plates et cetera most of the time. There is no space to put the laptop. Thus, my laptop is on the floor.

Bright sunlight from two big windows brightened the room warmly. I love to see the sunlight coming into the room through blinders, not directly — I put a blackout curtain on the window that is on the left of my bed. There are two reasons I bought this blackout curtain. The first reason is the room allows excessively bright sunlight. While I take a nap, it forces me to wake up. The second reason is I am allergic to sunlight. The other window is only covered by the blind that always stays closed.

I can hear lots of sound from outside of windows, such as children's playing, ambulance definitely in New York, a dog barking. Also, I can listen to the warm sound when the sunshine arouses the room. It scarcely describes the warm sound. It is the sound that is possible to feel the warmth of nature like wind playing with tree branches. I possibly hear the coldness of outside like wind angrily try to destroy everything. Outside of windows, I can smell many things. I can guess what the neighbor's dinner is. The most thing I like is breathing the winter air. I have much heat in my body. Therefore, I feel hot easily. As for my case, I enjoy the cold breeze air for refreshing my body.

Since I moved many times in New York, I prefer minimal style life. Thus, I hardly buy furniture pieces. When I was picking this room, the most of thing I liked was many built-in wardrobes. However, in a year, I realize that it is not enough for my greed about fashion. Now, the built-in wardrobe filled with the garments is at the opposite side of my bed. Also, the floor of the room is covered by lots of clothes. There's no place to put my feet. The habit that I have to fix is placing the clothes on the floor even I do not wear shoes in the house, and also I do not step on them; there are limited routes that I can walk. The wardrobe is full of old and not wearing clothes. Inside of closet is colorful. I used to love color clothes when I was young like green, blue, white, and many different colors. However, I started wearing only black clothes. So, the floor of the room is covered all black color. I collected them and hung on the closet a few days ago. However, the room came back immediately.

At the corner of the room, there is a small old sewing machine on the side. When I was young, I did not know what my dream is. In the past, I studied mechanical engineering that I did not want to. At that time, I knew I did not want to be an engineer. At the same time, I did not know what I like. I spent a long time to find what I want to be. Once, in the home appliance shop, the sewing machine looked attractive to me. It is tough to explain what my feeling was. I can only guess what impression I had. Maybe, I wanted to study fashion. I bought the sewing machine without a vivid reason. I did not know how to use it. Thus, the sewing machine is staying at home until now. After a few years later, I finally became clear what I wanted to do in my future. I searched online how to use them. Then, made garments with it. Right now, I study fashion design in Parsons. Then, I am using a bigger sewing machine for more detail and professional job. My room contains memory, present myself and future what I want to be.
