

Hundreds of disposable bento boxes and plastic cups were used during one flight. Imagine how much trash could be created during so many flights.

Human service is still an important part of a flight, including serving, cleaning, driving, leading direction, carting bags, etc.

Large amount of water is used to during a flight and also some reports reveal that the tap water on plane is not really clean. Try to only drink the water from bottle. Also, the paper usage is a large amount of it too. There are also hand paper towel and toilet paper towel. It is nice as service, but it costed more paper used by passengers.
