

A NICE DAY IN NEWPORT

A Nice day in Newport is a story of a men and women spending time together in Newport, New Jersey. The video has different views of angles, variety of perspectives. It does not only show the view of Manhattan, New York and Newport, but also show the closed-up views of different things. There is one section where a women takes pictures with DSLR camera and come closer to the actual camera that is taking this flim. Then, the screen switches to the view of the women taking picture of the men with her camera. This is the most interesting part of the flim. In addition, where the producer takes a shot from the ground creates different mood than the normal eye-height shots.
